NEW & NOTEWORTHY

Bauer's Back

A longtime pottery collector, filmmaker Janek Boniecki is reintroducing the colorful stoneware that the J.A. Bauer Pottery Company popularized until its closing in 1962. The Bauer Pottery Company of Los Angeles line includes flowerpots, mixing bowls, dinnerware, vases and more, retailing from $15 to around $110. The 30 items are available in six colors at various shops across the U.S. Check the Web site, www.bauerla.com, or phone 1-888-213-0800 for a location near you.

Craftsman Gates and Fences

Buckminster Fuller-trained craftsman Charles Prowell has perfected modular fence panels and gates that would complement many an Arts and Crafts home. Charles Prowell Woodworks, located in Sebastopol, Calif., has been selling its products online since 1995. Gates come in a variety of styles including automated-closure driveway models; clear Western red cedar is the wood of choice. Visit www.prowellwoodworks.com to view their extensive portfolio.

Garage Plans

Jeff Heilman of Vintage Garages designs structures in the Craftsman, Prairie and carriage-house styles, among others. A love of historic buildings and a custom-home design business led to this offshoot, which includes plans for outbuildings suitable as potting sheds, playhouses and the like. His Web site (www.vintagegarages.com) shows plans that start at $49.95; e-mail Heilman at housepln@gte.net.
