HAMMER TO NAIL, hammer to nail,
Mind wanders, back to work,
A grab for more nails,
Hammer to nail, hammer to nail,
More nails,
Hammer to nail,
Someone walks by—a girl?

Hammer to thumb.

Longtime readers will remember the wenge table built by Charles Prowell that was featured on the cover of Woodwork No. 4, Winter 1989. The design has proved a success, and Prowell has since made many variations of the original model, including this one—finished with the assistance of 'the boys'. Prowell says: "Both boys have been a fixture in the shop since they were old enough to walk, preceding my own start in my father's and grandfather's shop by a good five years."
